| 1 | 5.1 | CA ANZ | Paragraph 5.1 of APES 310 Client Monies (APES 310) requires a member to "open a Trust Account ... and include  the term "Trust Account" in its title...". We acknowledge the desirability of this naming convention and that it is  part of a suite of controls to prevent members co-mingling client monies with the practice's monies. However,  feedback from our members is that banks continue to refuse to allow them to include the term "Trust Account"  in the account title, even when provided with the APESB's facts sheet. This means that members are unable to  comply with APES 310. We recommend that the APESB amend this paragraph so that members can comply. A  suggestion may be to direct members to name the account in a manner that makes it easily distinguishable from  the member's operating bank account or to open the account at another bank. |  |
| 2 |  | CPAA | We commend the APESB for taking the opportunity to address issues raised by respondents in APESB's issues  register, in particular, the inclusion of an example of a Limited Assurance Engagement Report for assurance  engagements conducted in accordance with APES 310 Client Monies. | No |
